JOHN STAHL IS ARMED FORCES DAY CHAIRMAN

Col. Charles E. Fulton, professor of Air Science and Tactics, Gettysburg College, and project officer for the observance of Armed Forces Day here on May 16, announced today that John C. Stahl, Gettysburg R. 3, has been appointed chairman of the Armed Forces Day Committee.

Mr. Stahl announced his committee assistants from various Gettysburg organizations as follows: American Legion, John O'Brien; Business and Professional Women's Club, Mrs. Jesse L. Clapsaddle; Eagles, C. David McCullough; Elks, Noel Flynn; Exchange Club, David E. Garfinkle; Moose, Robert Neary; Rotary, David Blocher, Soroptimist Club, Mrs. Blaine Walter; Veterans of Foreign Wars, Raymond Strohm; Woman's Club, Mrs. Frederic E. Grist and Lions Club, Lloyd Hartman.

The Gettysburg observance will include a weapons display in Lincoln Square during the morning and early afternoon, and an Armed Forces Day luncheon at the Hotel Gettysburg. The luncheon will be highlighted by a short address. The name of the speaker has not been announced.

Tickets for the luncheon are being sold by most of the local service organizations.

POSTPONE CREDIT MEETING

The organization meeting of the Credit Bureau of Adams County, scheduled for Monday night at 8 o'clock at the fire engine house, has been postponed until Friday. It will be held at the same time and place on the latter date. The speaker will be Miss Mary Froelich, manager of the York Credit Bureau.

SKITS, DANCES, MINSTREL TOP LIONS' BILLING

Humorous skits, song and dance specialties and the second-half minstrel show will be features of the annual Charity Fund benefit show by the Gettysburg Lions Club, opening next Monday evening for a three-day stand at the Gettysburg High School Auditorium. Curtain time is 8 o'clock each evening.

A cast of 75 local folk that include county officials, high school teachers, college professors, attorneys, bankers and businessmen plus a score or two of high school boys and girls will finish two weeks of daily rehearsals over the weekend. Ticket sales are going well. Show Manager Donald A. Ulrich said, but additional seats are available on the charts at the Shetter House.

The program will be identical each evening with the exception of Monday when the crowning of the Queen of the Show, being selected by a popularity contest, by Lions President John S. Rice. Defense bonds will be presented to the winner and to the two runners-up.

Many of the favorites of Lions' shows of other years are included in the casts for the ten skits in the first division of the show. A new Lions Club quartette has been formed by Paul Grover, John Kendrick, David Blocher and Dr. Clarence Bartholomew. John and Virginia Millard, Fred G. Pfeiffer, George R. Larkin, John C. Stahl and others have roles in the "Bell-a-Hoppin'" skits that precede the black-face minstrel climax of the show.

Interlocutor Percy Miller, six end-men and several members of the minstrel circle of 30 voices will sing special numbers before the double finale of "Old Minstrel Show" and "God Bless America."

Scores of Lions have committee assignments on stage, refreshment, door, ticket, parking and other committees with nearly every member of the club taking some active part in the preparations of the show itself.

Borough Police File Two Traffic Charges

A ten-day notice was sent today by Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore to Jacob Lawver, Biglerville, on a charge of failing to stop his automobile for a red light at Carlisle St. and Lincoln Ave. on April 13. The filing of the charge by borough police followed an accident involving Lawver's car at the intersection.

Borough police charged Francis Cunningham, Philadelphia, with failing to stop for a red blinker light at Chambersburg St. and Bedford Ave. at 12:10 a.m. today. Cunningham will also receive a ten-day notice.

COUPLE WEDS IN BONNEAUVILLE THIS MORNING

Miss Thelma Jean Koontz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Koontz, Littlestown R. 1, became the bride of Pvt. Kenneth William Seymore, son of Joseph Seymore, York, and Mrs. Paul Cooley, Gettysburg, this morning at 8 o'clock at a nuptial mass in St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Bonneauville. Rev. Fr. Leo J. Krichen, the pastor, performed the double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an all nylon embroidered bridal gown over a white tulle dress with a cathedral train. The top of the gown had a nylon yoke and the front was divided, scalloped on either side. She wore a lace cloche with a silk embroidered illusion veil of fingertip length.

The maid of honor, Miss Sue Christner, wore a mint green gown of netting over lace and a lace head-dress. The bridesmaids, Miss Marianne Gardner and Miss Brenadine Strausbaugh, wore orchid and pink net gowns, respectively.

Johnny Gardenseed

The Modern Johnny Appleseed

By Leighton C. Taylor

"Little deeds of kindness and love, help to make the earth happy like Heaven above."

If the fruit-growing and gardening fraternity should establish a Hall of Fame, this writer nominates for first honors the two messengers of good will around whom this story is written.

In these hectic days of uncertainty, turmoil and strife, the world over, it is refreshing and inspiring to dwell briefly on the humanitarian activities of two modest, self-effacing individuals—activities unique in our Nation's history, and carried on in the true spirit of the Golden Rule. To put it another way, the subjects of our story belong in that rare group who live rather than preach their religion—whose "deeds speak louder than words."

One hundred and fifty-two years ago, this month, a stranger appeared in a small Ohio community. Strangers thereabouts were scarce in those early days. This stranger was a tall, thin, black-eyed young man in his middle

MISS WERTMAN, E. B. STERRETT JR. WILL WED TODAY

Miss Nancy Lee Wertman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harris D. Wertman, Delano, Pa., will become the bride of Edgar Black Sterrett Jr., Chicago, Ill., son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar B. Sterrett Sr., Philadelphia, at 2 o'clock this afternoon in the Church of the Abiding Presence, Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary Campus. Rev. Clifford Hays, Philadelphia, will perform the double-ring ceremony before an altar banked with palms and candelabra.

Ross Sachs, Gettysburg, will sing "I Love Thee" by Greg; "Because" by D'Hardelet and "The Lord's Prayer" by Malotte. Prof. Harry Bolich, Gettysburg, will be the organist.

The bride, who will be given in marriage by her father, will wear a full-length white gown featuring a tight-fitting lace bodice over satin skirt with a chapel train, long tapering sleeves, a Peter Pan collar and a net yoke. Her fingertip illusion veil is attached to a bonnet-effect headpiece designed with heirloom lace. She will carry a white Bible topped with white orchids.

Bride's Attendants

The maid of honor, Miss Margaret Wertman, Allentown, sister of the bride, will wear an aqua silk shantung floor-length gown similar in design to that of the bride's. Her headpiece is a bonnet-effect design in aqua silk shantung and tulle and she will carry yellow carnations and tea roses.

Please!

Five hundred Adams Countians are being sought to join in a great nation-wide campaign to collect one million pints of blood to combat the dreaded polio affliction. Five hundred pints of blood are being sought in Adams County and the date for the first voluntary blood donation is May 15 in Gettysburg.

The number of blood donors in this county has gradually reduced until it has reached a serious stage, according to the local Red Cross chapter. The county has failed to reach its quota for some time. Donors by the score have failed to appear to give blood after they had voluntarily offered to do so. Consequently the blood bank in this country is far below normal requirements.

The drain this summer, in addition to the present serious situation of supplying blood for our troops in Korea, will be very heavy. And the reason is that thousands of Americans, mostly youngsters, will be stricken with polio.

County Quota Is 500 Pints

If there is a sufficient amount of blood donated now there will be sufficient Gamma Globulin to give polio "shots" to those afflicted and thus prevent paralysis.

Gamma globulin (also called immune serum globulin) is that part of the human blood which contains antibodies built up in the blood stream to help the human body fight disease. To provide protection against paralysis that comes with all three strains of polio, blood from many donors is "pooled," and from that the gamma globulin is separated.

It takes a little over a pint of whole blood to supply an average dose of gamma globulin. The Red Cross is planning to process and package approximately 1,000,000 polio units of gamma globulin for use next summer.

Gamma globulin is the only known substance which can provide a measure of protection against polio paralysis.

The Red Cross has been asked to collect one million pints.

Adams County has been asked to collect 500 pints this summer.

Radford H. Lippy, chairman of the Blood Donor Committee for the local Red Cross, today made an urgent appeal for blood donors.

Polio Victims Will Need Blood

"I don't believe there is one person in Adams County who would not willingly donate one pint of blood to save some youngster from being paralyzed by polio if he was aware that his donation meant that much," Mr. Lippy said.

"We have tried to reach everybody with our appeals but for some unknown reason many of our expected donors fail to appear at the appointed time. Consequently we have fallen far below our quota."

"Here is our opportunity to really do something. We need blood to fight polio. If we don't get enough blood many youngsters are going to be paralyzed because of our failure to donate one small pint," he added.

On May 15 a staff of 35 doctors, nurses, nurses' aides and other workers will be at the Elks Lodge, York St., from 10 o'clock in the morning until 4 in the afternoon to receive blood donations.

This is an appeal to every Adams Countian who possibly can to volunteer to donate one pint on that day. Business men, laborers, clerks, professional men, everybody from 18 to 59 years of age, in good health, is eligible.

Donate One Pint

We issue this appeal in behalf of the Red Cross and for those innocent youngsters who will be stricken with polio next summer.

Please give one pint next May 15.

This is all you have to do:

Telephone the Red Cross, Gettysburg 132 or 618, and state what time you will report for your donation.

Or send a two cent post card or letter to the Red Cross giving this same information.

And be sure to keep your appointment on May 15.

Remember, your pint of blood may prevent paralysis in some Gettysburg or Adams County youngster!

If you cannot donate your pint of blood on May 15 please notify the Red Cross office anyway of your willingness to donate and you will be notified later of the second day for blood donation later in the summer.

News Collected At Random

A recent report of the U.S. Bureau of the Census on the populations of a number of foreign countries provides an illustration of the relative importance of those countries whose affairs have recently claimed the attention of the world.

Pennsylvania's estimated population of 10,667,000 as of July 1, 1952 exceeds that of the Island of Formosa by more than two and one half million. It is equal to the combined populations of Australia and New Zealand. It exceeds the present population of Hungary by one million and of Australia by more than 3 1/2 million. At the latest estimate, our population is nearly two million greater than that of Belgium; it is larger than that of Denmark and Finland combined, or of the combined population of Norway and Sweden.

Among other important countries which Pennsylvania leads in population are Greece, 7,700,000; Ireland, 2,900,000; The Netherlands, 10,300,000; Portugal, 8,600,000; and Switzerland, 4,800,000. We have six times the population of the State of Israel. No nation in that list even approaches Pennsylvania in its output of the manufactured products, or the industrial raw materials essential to our present civilization, though several of them have, at one time or (Continued on Page 3)

MISS B. A. ROTH, F. A. SANDERS MARRIED TODAY

Miss Barbara Ann Roth, daughter of Mrs. Mary M. Roth, 220 S. Stratton St., and the late Arthur E. Roth, became the bride of Richard Francis Sanders, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver F. Sanders, 68 W. Middle St., at 9 o'clock this morning in a double ring ceremony in St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church here. Rev. Fr. Anthony F. Kane, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony and was celebrant of the nuptial mass that followed.

Given in marriage by a brother, John William Roth, the bride wore an ankle-length gown of white net over white satin featuring a fitted bodice, Peter Pan collar and long sleeves which tapered over the wrists. The top of the gown was of lace over satin. Her fingertip length veil was attached to a crown of mother of pearl flowers. She carried white roses and white carnations arranged with white streamers.

Matron Of Honor

The matron of honor, Mrs. Richard Guy Spalding, a sister of the bridegroom, wore a larkspur blue ballerina length gown of blue net over blue satin adorned with scalloped lace and featuring a fitted bodice and short puffed lace sleeves with a full skirt designed with two net overskirts. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations arranged with pink and blue streamers and wore a head band of pink carnations and blue net.

Donald B. Byard Jr., Emmitsburg, a nephew of the bridegroom, was the ring-bearer and Miss Mary Patricia Roth, a niece of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a larkspur blue ankle length gown with net yoke and hoop skirt and mits, and a blue net bonnet-effect headpiece. She carried mixed spring flowers.

Donald S. Byard Sr., Emmitsburg, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Joseph A. Sanders, a brother of the bridegroom, and Arthur J. Roth, a brother of the bride.

PTA Convention Is Told About Korea

The work of the PTA in Korea was described in an address at the Gettysburg High School this morning where several hundred delegates are attending the annual spring convention of the Southern District of the PTA of Pennsylvania. A luncheon and an afternoon session will be held.

This morning's speaker was Mrs. J. H. Berrean, Danville, Pa. She told of the educational system in Korea and said Korea was "one of the first nations in the Far East to sponsor a public system of education and with the aid of interest of the individual for education, it is only lack of finances that bars a compulsory education program there."

The Lincoln School band entertained for the convention this morning and this afternoon a girls' ensemble from the high school will sing.

Mrs. J. B. Collins of the Gettysburg PTA is chairman of arrangements for the convention.

Fix Timetables For "Operation Little Switch" And Sessions On Korean Truce Talk Plans

MUNSAN, Korea (U. N. and Communist staff officers today agreed tentatively on a time schedule for Monday's historic exchange of disabled prisoners of the Korean War.

And they completed arrangements for a meeting of liaison officers tomorrow to set a date for resuming the suspended full scale Korean armistice talks.

The tentative schedule calls for the first exchange of sick and wounded prisoners at 9 a.m. Monday (7 p.m., Sunday, EST).

All five delegates of the U. N.'s main truce team were in Korea today. They could be in Panmunjom, the weathered truce talk village, in a matter of hours when the fast-breaking developments of the past couple weeks add up to a call to re-open the stalled talks. Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison, head of the U. N. delegation, and Air Force Brig. Gen. Edgar Glenn, another member, flew here from Japan today.

Harrison came to observe the exchange of sick and wounded POWs, set to begin at Panmunjom Monday, and to be briefed on latest developments.

Harrison told newsmen he has no objection to talking truce with the Reds in Panmunjom even while an exchange of disabled prisoners goes on only a few yards from the conference hut. He would make no predictions. "I just play it from day to day," he said.

Operation Little Switch

Already at this advance truce headquarters of the U. N. Command is a third team member, Rear Adm. John C. Daniel. He will head the liaison group that will meet the Communists at Pan-

Special Meeting Of Town Council Monday

A special meeting of the borough council has been called for Monday night at 7:30 o'clock to act on a resolution to request property on Steinwehr Ave. to lay curbs, and to vote on the proposed ordaining of a new alley between Springs Ave. and W. Middle St. in the rear of the new Glenn L. Bream store buildings. The state has notified the borough it will widen Steinwehr Ave. the full width if curbs are placed.

CHURCHMEN TO ATTEND SYNOD MEET IN YORK

The Rev. Dr. Howard Schley Fox, pastor of Trinity Evangelical and Reformed Church, will be the organist at the 15th annual legislative session of the Mercersburg Synod of the Reformed Church, to be held in the Faith Reformed Church, York, next Tuesday and Wednesday.

The synod is composed of Reformed Churches of Adams, York, Franklin, Fulton, Perry and Cumberland Counties. Each church will be represented by its pastor and one lay delegate.

The Rev. James W. Moyer, Mercersburg, president of the synod, will be in charge of sessions, which open with communion Tuesday morning at 9:30 o'clock. Registrations open at 9 a.m. Organization of the synod will take place at 10:30 a.m. Committees will meet at 11:30 a.m. to formulate reports, which will be given at the afternoon session, opening at 1:45 o'clock.

To Elect Officers

A public session will be held Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock at which the Rev. Dr. Ben M. Herberster, Norwood, Ohio, will present the message of the general council, with special emphasis upon the report of the special study committee appointed by the General Synod in 1950. An open forum will follow.

Wednesday's session will open with a devotional period. The remainder of the day will be devoted to acting on reports of committees and representatives of denominational and inter-denominational organizations and institutions. The synod meeting will close Wednesday afternoon with a consecration service followed by a luncheon.

During the sessions, officers for the next two years will be elected, and delegates to the triennial meeting of the General Synod will be named.

Third District S. S. Convention April 26

The annual spring convention of the Third District Sunday School Association will be held Sunday evening, April 26, 8 o'clock in the Church of the Good Shepherd, Hoffman Orphanage. The Rev. William C. Karns, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church, Littlestown, will be the speaker for the evening.

Nomination and election of officers will take place. The nominating committee comprises Stanley M. Staub, Elmer C. Shildt and Chester S. Byers. The program committee is composed of H. Dean Stover, Mervin K. Myers and Edward F. Hawk.

Daughters were born at the hospital today to Mr. and Mrs. James Bowers, Emmitsburg, and Mr. and Mrs. George Lewis, Gettysburg R. 4.

Sons were born Friday at the hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cleveland, 39 Baltimore St., and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Kessler, Fairfield.

CIVIC COUNCIL TO GO TO OWNERS IN BRICKYARD CASE

The Gettysburg Women's Civic Council has been advised by Burgess William G. Weaver that no action can be taken by borough authorities about conditions that the women's organization had called attention to a month ago at the brickyard property in the northwest section of the borough.

That report was given the Civic Council at its April meeting Friday evening and the women decided to initiate action themselves by going to the owners of the property, "feeling that something should be done before the loss of a child's life forces attention upon the problem."

The attention of the Civic Council had been directed to brickyard conditions last month by members of the Post Office Clerks' Auxiliary who had investigated and found conditions dangerous for children of the town who play there. The unfenced brickyard quarry pond and junked refrigerators with locks and swinging doors were particular conditions complained of in the report.

Change In Representatives

The Civic Council sent a letter to Borough Council asking that action be taken and the matter was turned over to the burgess to learn if conditions at the brick-

CEASE-SMITH NUPTIALS READ THIS MORNING

Miss Helen Elizabeth Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Smith, Gettysburg R. 5, became the bride of Burnell Alfred Cease, son of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Cease, Orrtanna, in a ceremony performed by Rev. Fr. Leo J. Krichen at 9 o'clock this morning in St. Joseph's Church, Bonneauville. Mrs. Bernard Walter, organist, played wedding marches and accompanied the choir.

The bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace over satin designed with a round neckline, long mits and a fitted bodice. Her fingertip veil of illusion net was fastened to a wreath of beaded flowers. She carried a Colonial bouquet of white roses and carnations.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Jesse Landis, Bonneauville, wore a gown of blue satin and net similar in design to the bride's gown. Her headpiece was an arrangement of nylon, flowers and net and she wore nylon gloves. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses and carnations.

Reception This Evening

William Smith, Bonneauville, brother of the bride, was the best man, and the ushers were John Cease, Orrtanna, brother of the groom, and Raymond Smith, Bonneauville, brother of the bride.

A reception will be held this evening in the Bonneauville fire hall after which the couple will leave for a honeymoon of unannounced destination. The bride is a graduate of the Delone Catholic High School with the class of 1951. She is an employee of the Carroll Rubber Company, Littlestown. Mr. Cease, who served for two years with the army at Fort Custer, Mich., received his discharge last September. He is employed by the Keystone Cabinet Company, Littlestown.

The bride wore as her going-away ensemble a navy dress with white accessories.

Piano Students To Play At College

Mary Berthold, Nelson Myers, Ralph Kurtz and Howard Sheets, piano students of Toini Koski Heikkinen at Gettysburg College, will be the featured artists for the Campus Musicales to be held in Brua Chapel lounge Sunday at 8:30 p.m.

Dr. Francis C. Mason, associate professor of English, will present another in his series of readings and interpretations of poems.

For her presentation Miss Berthold will play "Prelude and Page in D," Bach; "The Maid and Nightingale," Granados; "Fantasie-Improvisation," Chopin; and "Polonaise in A Flat," Chopin. Mr. Kurtz will play "Theme and Six Variations," Beethoven; Mr. Myers will present "Preludes—Opus 28, Nos. 4, 7, 20 and 18," Chopin; and Mr. Sheets will conclude the program with "Minstrels," by Debussy.

Additional musicales to be presented later in the season will be announced next week. The public is invited to attend the series.

UNIONS BLOCK STRIKE PACT

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Federal mediation official said yesterday that the unions involved raised new issues when the three-week strike on the Lehigh and New England railroad was "practically settled."

Production of anthracite mines and cement plants served by the line, which operates between Bethlehem, Pa., and Campbell, N. Y., has been curtailed by the walkout. The unions involved are the Brotherhood of Trainmen, Conductors and Firemen.

Francis A. O'Neill, Jr., chairman of the National Mediation Board, said last night that the unions had struck over 22 grievances concerning their contracts. Wage rates were not involved.

Agreement was finally reached, following prolonged meetings, on all the original strike issues, O'Neill said. Then, he added, the union demanded that 88 other grievances also be settled, before it would agree to end the walkout.

"I have asked the unions to call off the strike," O'Neill said, "but they have declined to give me a reply until the carrier gives some answer on these other grievances. We have recessed the meetings on that basis until Monday morning."

CIVIC COUNCIL TO

Edith Bushman, replacing Mrs. Guyon E. Buehler, who as immediate past president may serve two years as a member of the Executive Committee.

Council representatives on the Associated Civic and Service Group for the year will be Mrs. Craver, Mrs. Buehler and Mrs. Ida H. Roth, with Mrs. Charles L. Lauver serving as alternate. A report on the present status of the public comfort station situation was given.

Miss Louise Ramer was appointed to represent the group on the Lion's Club Community Building meeting on May 12. Mrs. Bushman asked the members to sell tickets to the Armed Forces Day luncheon at Hotel Gettysburg on May 16 at 12:30 to $1.50. Mrs. Craver was appointed to represent the Council at that meeting.

An invitation was received from the Adams County Child Welfare Advisory Committee to attend their annual dinner to be held on May 5th at the Redeemer's Reformed Church in Littlestown. Mrs. Craver and Mrs. Buehler were appointed to represent the council at that event.

To Help With Booth

The women agreed to cooperate with the Retail Merchants Association again this year in the operation of the Information Booth in Lincoln Square. Representatives were requested to send to Frank Hower, secretary, a list of the women in their organizations who are willing to work, together with the hours and days most suitable to them.

Attention was called to the Primary election on May 21 and the women were urged to vote. Mrs. Craver reported that she had paid an official visit to the Adams County Fish and Game Association during the past month.

It was reported that five members had sat in on the last meeting of Town Council and had found the discussion of borough problems "very interesting and very educational."

At the close of the business session the group was addressed by Mrs. Verna Myers, executive director for the Adams County Public Assistance board, who spoke on the work of her department. She stated that "our economy has changed so much in recent years that public assistance is necessary." She explained, "There is no longer a place in the home for old folk and no light tasks for them to be occupied with. We buy a living now rather than make it, and money is more important than it used to be. Formerly those who applied for aid were given orders for food and clothing but since 1936 cash relief is furnished in a minimum amount and there is no control of expenditures by the department. Anybody can apply for assistance but the department makes a careful and confidential check to determine if they are needy."

A miniature bride and groom from which white satin ribbons led to brightly-wrapped gifts formed an orange blossom motif at the surprise bridal shower held for Miss Marion Menchey at the home of Mrs. Curvin Mickley, Cashtown, Friday evening. The co-hostesses were Mrs. John Linn, Cashtown, and Mrs. Vernon Clapper, Gettysburg.

The guests included: Mrs. Carl S. Menchey, Mrs. Gaylord Fissel, Mrs. Earl C. Smith, Mrs. E. Donald Scott, Mrs. Edith Kressler, Mrs. Howard Sharrar, and the Misses Mary Nau, Rae Strohm and Mary Lou Kranias. Miss Menchey, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl S. Menchey, Steinwehr Ave., will wed Weidon Smith of Gettysburg in June.

3-DIMENSIONAL MOVIES IN USE IN AIR FORCE

FONTAINEBLEAU, France (AP) — Hollywood's new craze, three dimensional movies, are already at the supersonic level in the U.S. Air Force.

The Air Force has been using 3-D for more than a decade. It was used with telling effectiveness for aerial reconnaissance in the late stages of World War II. It proved itself again in Korea.

And Brig. Gen. George W. Goddard, who pioneered 3-D in the Air Force, sees no limit to its horizons. "We've got the cameras away from the airplanes," Gen. Goddard says. "With the camera we have now a plane could fly at a speed of 3,000 miles an hour and a height of 1,000 feet, and get a detailed continuous picture in natural color of everything in its path."

Detailed Pictures

"Using our projector, a three dimensional image of the film could be flashed on a screen 24 feet square. It would be so detailed you could read the numbers on freight cars. Another of our devices would enable us to gauge the height of buildings, the width of bridges, and the depth of waters along coastal areas with accuracy that is almost beyond belief."

The Air Force 3-D procedure throws two separate images on a metallic screen. It does not need a curved or beaded screen used in some commercial processes to give an illusion of depth. But light polarizing glasses must be worn by the viewers.

Gen. Goddard, a bluff, hearty-spoken veteran who spent 18 years as director of the Air Force Photographic research Laboratory at Wright-Patterson Field, Dayton, Ohio, now is on duty with Allied Air Forces, Central, Europe. He is explaining his developments in aerial photography to officers of France, Great Britain, Canada, Belgium and Holland — the other countries supplying forces for AAFCE.

Awards Won

Once retired, he was recalled to active duty to continue his photographic research. Within the past year he has won two U.S. photographic awards for his contributions to aerial photography.

Three-D got its first practical application in the Okinawa campaign, where the aerial photographs accurately charted the depths and positions of reefs and sandbars fronting the invasion beaches.

"At Okinawa, aerial photographers said the Orange sea wall was six feet seven inches high. They were wrong, it was six feet five inches," General Goddard recalls. In Korea, the height of Inchon docks was put at seven feet — exactly right.

In the Air Force 3-D process, no shutter is used in the camera. The film is fed across a slit, whose opening is fixed electronically for varying light conditions.

Giant Eyes

Says Goddard: "We duplicate human sight as it would have to be at high altitude to see the ground clearly. Human eyes would have to be set 600 feet apart to distinguish six-inch objects at 1,000 feet altitude."

"They would have to be set far-

BUNDLES FOR CALIFORNIA
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Miss Jimmie Rose Harrison, 17, of Little Rock, Ark., appeared in the annual Rose Bowl parade at Pasadena, Calif., this year, adorned in a formal and the traditional Rose Bowl robe, riding on a float depicting a jet airplane.

The 17-year-old queen has revealed that under her formal attire she was wearing: two pajama bottoms, several skirts and sweaters and a pair of woolen socks.

Her aunt says she went higher, or closer as you went lower. We compute the needed distance with electronic instruments.

For example, at an altitude of 1,000 feet, the plane advances 600 feet between the first and second exposures. When the two pictures are flashed on the screen simultaneously the viewer gets the idea of depth.

Whether In Paris, Portugal Or Gettysburg Spring Has Way With Wayward Heart

Everyone is singing the nostalgic lyric, "April in Paris," wistfully dreaming of "chestnuts in blossom" and "holiday tables under the trees . . ." The song, by a unique magic, leaves one with a feeling that springtime is lost unless one spends it in the city along the Seine. According to the words, one will never be "free" again — after Paris!

"April in Portugal" is another tune heard about town . . . over the radio . . . on TV . . . even the newsboys are humming it. The rhythm is slightly Latin and has the tendency to disturb one on a conventional, humdrum morning when there is little in mind but breakfast and a trip to the office.

While reading the mail (mostly bills) one is distracted by visions of olive groves and sheep grazing on a green hillside in far-off Portugal . . . peasant girls selling flowers in the market-place . . . fishing ships resting in the harbor with their sails white in the morning sun . . . all this because of a disturbing melody on the radio just after the news about Korea.

Strange that no one ever wrote a song about April in Gettysburg, for the town, it is said, has been "touched by greatness." We could forget Paris and Portugal, perhaps, in a drive through the Battiefeld in late afternoon when the shadows begin to lengthen across the new green grass and the white monuments turn pink in the fading sunset. Plum Run will be bright with blossoms and Devil's Den a place of enchantment and we will remember that "only the seasons and the years (and the tourists) invade these quiet wheatfields where the armies crashed . . ."

Could Sing About Local Scene
We could sing of Lincoln, Lincoln who stood where the cypress now stands tall and lonely in the National Park. A great star shining in the west remembers him, and will remember, with ever-returning spring.

Is there nothing to sing about in the violet-scented woods . . . the verdant meadows . . . the glens and vales in the Battiefeld? A living sonnet is the blossoming of redbud and dogwood in late spring and the mysterious woodlands, the craggy rocks and mossy ravines

Littlestown Lions Plan Joint Ladies Night Program For Four Clubs May 21; Vote Donations

Preliminary plans were made for the Littlestown Lions Club to be host to the Conewago, New Oxford and Beaver Creek Lions Clubs for a joint meeting and Ladies' Night program on May 21 at the second April meeting of the local club held Thursday evening at Bankert's Restaurant. The president, John D. Basehoar, who presided, appointed the following to serve as a special committee on arrangements for the affair, Marvin P. Breighner, chairman, Edgar A. Wolfe, Robert L. Crouse, John H. Riley, Worthy A. Crabbs, H. Dewey Streivig, Holman L. Sell, and Monroe J. Stavelly. The place for holding the affair will be announced later.

Entertainment for the evening consisted of the showing of slides on the National Antique Car Club trip to Washington, D. C., last summer, and narration, by President Basehoar, who participated in the trip. A report was given on the recent amateur show sponsored by the club, and thanks was extended to all those who helped in any way to make it so successful. Three visiting members of the Pikesville, Md., club were in attendance. They were Lions Parnell, Armstrong and Neiderer. Two visitors were present, Jack Mackley and Charles Brown, as the guests of Wilbur E. Mackley.

Vote Donation

Following the regular session, the club directors met during which time the following donations were voted: $25 to the free public parking lot of the community, being sponsored by the American Legion Post; $10 to the cancer drive; $5 to the American Foundation for Overseas Blind; $5 to the Easter seal fund of the county. The Constitution and By-laws Committee composed of Dr. Samuel L. Bucke, Chester S. Byers and L. U. Collins will be in charge of the program for the meeting on Thursday, May 7, 7:00 p.m. at Bankert's.

Approximately 25 were in attendance at the monthly social for the young people of St. John's Lutheran Church, sponsored by the Christian Endeavor Society, on Thursday at the church. A song service was held in charge of the pastor, the Rev. William C. Karns. Group games were conducted by JoAnn Selby and Jean Brumgard. Refreshments were served by Ann Karns and Nancy Trump. It was decided to hold a softball game in connection with the next social on Thursday, May 21.

The weekly rehearsal of the Intermediate choir of St. Paul's Lutheran Church will be held every Tuesday at 6:15 p.m., instead of Thursday at 6, beginning next week and continuing until further notice, as announced by the director, Robert B. Degroft.

Push Investigation

Progress in the investigation being conducted by Littlestown Chief of Police Melvin H. Swab, assisted by Pvt. David James, state policeman from the Gettysburg substation, following the confession last week of two local juveniles who admitted stealing dimes from the home of Harry Yingling, along the Mill Rd., near town, is revealing information concerning other robberies which occurred during the past several months. Two additional boys are also implicated in the crimes. Chief Swab added that before the investigation is complete he feels that the robbery which took place last fall at the Harold S. Roberts home on Maple Ave., when a hole was made in the screen door and the other door unlatched for entering, will be solved as well as several other local thefts.

It is requested that the members of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, Littlestown Aerie No. 2226, who received questionnaires and have not returned them, do so as soon as possible to the secretary, John A. Sentz.

A paper products demonstration will be featured at the April meeting of the Husters' Sunday School Class of Redeemer's Reformed Church on Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the social hall of the church. Members of the class are asked to invite their friends to attend the demonstration. Nomination and election of officers will take place during the business session. The April hostess committee is composed of Mrs. Ralph Staley, Mrs. Theron W. Spangler, Mrs. Curvin Hollinger, Mrs. Donald G. Garner and Miss Evelyn Hornberger.

The annual banquet of the Southern Regional Holy Name Union was held on Thursday in the Valencia Ballroom, York, and a delegation from the Holy Name Society of St. Aloysius Catholic Church attended. Babe "Feeling Fine" After Her Operation

BEAUMONT, Tex. (P)—The sports finish of Babe Didrikson Zaharias may have been written entirely too soon.

The great woman athlete came through a serious operation "feeling fine" and the doctors who performed it think she may eventually return to golf where she became the finest player of them all.

The Babe was operated on yesterday afternoon for a malignancy that had put her in a hospital eight days before. The operation was pronounced as a success and one of her doctors made this observation:

"If things go as well as it looks, she could possibly take part in athletics again. But how soon is a little too early to say."

Johnny Gardenseed

The Modern Johnny Appleseed

By Leighton C. Taylor

presses in the East. He paddled his boat up and down inland streams planting his appleseeds at Steubenville, and a half hundred other places in Ohio, Indiana, and Michigan. Wherever apple blossoms were found in the wilderness, one could be sure that Johnny Appleseed had been there.

Sometimes he returned to his plantings for seedlings to set out elsewhere, as often he did not. He left his nurseries behind in the hope that the settlers might realize and appreciate the beauty and riches he had provided for them.

Visited Many Towns

A hundred small towns knew Johnny, but they knew as little of his coming and going as of the birds of spring and autumn. They knew him as an intensely religious man, but one who lived his religion far more than he talked it, the main drive of his life was selflessness; he had set out to plant appleseeds because, back East, he had heard that the few apple trees in the West were dying, and he felt called upon to replace them so that the people might eat the fruit and be spared the scurvy.

Johnny Appleseed's way of life and his self-appointed task made him a legend, even before he died, among the simple people of his day. In a primitive pioneer period, when life was hard, his lack of interest in things that concerned most men brought him love and affection that outlasted his own life. He died in 1845 near Ft. Wayne, Indiana, after catching cold while inspecting one of his nurseries.

After Johnny's death the legends about him grew like one of his own trees. Men told of his ways with the Indians; of their friendship for home and their trust, and of times when he had dealt with them alone and unafraid. Another man told how he had seen Johnny playing with bear cubs while the mother bear watched without concern; that few men there were who had done that.

Others told how Johnny eat no meat and carry no gun; how he would give the clothes off his back to anyone who needed them; how he would walk the winter woods barefoot; how he would ask for a simple meal at a cabin door and pay for it with apple trees, and how he would ask to sleep the night on a cabin floor and be gone long before his hosts awoke.

And now we come to our second messenger of good will, "Johnny Gardenseed," who carries on the work of his worthy predecessor.

His real name is Aloysius Eugene Francis Patrick Mosier, 49 years old and a native of California. A World War II ex-marine, he is now a merchant marine engineer sailing from Morocco to Malaya and Singapore, and from the Islands of the South Pacific to war-torn Korea. On these voyages, wherever his ship makes port, Johnny distributes packages of garden seeds to the natives in inland villages and towns and throughout the country-side. Mosier started his seed distributing program after witnessing the effects of malnutrition on native children in Korea.

At that time, upon his return home, he withdrew from bank his life's savings, ($1,500), which he invested in vegetable and other seeds, (thousands of packages of carrots, spinach, celery, tomatoes, turnips, lettuce, onions, corn, cucumbers, potatoes, etc.); for distribution on his next and subsequent voyages.

Receives Donations

Thus the seed distributing program of "Johnny Gardenseed" began — a program that has grown until over 200,000 packages of seeds have been distributed by him to date. Many private citizens, hearing of his work, have made donations to him.

But it is Johnny himself whose ceaseless efforts are spreading good-will and friendship wherever he goes. Single-handed, he is combating the spread of communism in a way that may prove more effective than some of our high-level diplomacy. "If I don't accomplish anything else," says Mosier, "I am at least making friends for the United States. I like to think that I am planting a green hand around the world to help off the Red one."

A former 4-H Club boy, Johnny started the first 4-H Club in the Far East, (in Singapore), and another in Indonesia. Paying the Orientals a compliment, Mosier says, "I've noticed one thing, they are a proud bunch. They want a handout, but they'll take seeds because it helps them to help themselves."

Heads of state and other high officials, throughout Asia and North Africa, have written Johnny letters of thanks. Revisiting places where he has distributed seeds, he is always given free meals, the vegetables coming from his own gardens. Only once did he decline an invitation: In Bali he pleaded illness when he learned the salad course would include such delicacies as large ants, grasshoppers, and cockroaches.

Hoping to expand his program, Mosier "would like to get some of those kids the good milk they need," and, with his resourcefulness and determination, he doubtless will.

Men of Johnny Appleseed's day, who sought and found wealth, power and prestige, have long since been forgotten. Still remembered, however, as fresh as his apple blossoms, is the simple man who took no care for the things of the morrow as he walked through early American history into the hearts of the people. His aim was high — he wanted to leave the world a more neighborly place than he found it; and it is a fair assumption that the self-dedication of his successor, "Johnny Gardenseed," to the happiness and well-being of countless thousands less fortunate than he, will likewise be recorded and perpetuated in song, story, and legend by future generations.

East Berlin

EAST BERLIN—Mr. and Mrs. Ned Short, York, former residents of East Berlin, have announced the engagement of their eldest daughter, Susie, a junior at York High School, to Rodney E. Weaver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Weaver, York R. S.

Mr. and Mrs. Emory W. Sell Jr., and daughters, Lucy and Kandy, Lou, are spending the weekend with their son, Richard D. Sell, at Fort Knox, Ky., where he has been stationed since entering the army in February.

Mrs. Vernon Hoke is able to be about after confinement to bed due to a severe cold.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Garvick, Hanover, who spend vacations at "Camp Sycamore," the Garvick cottage here, entertained at a party at their home recently in celebration of the fourth birthday of their son, Jeffrey.

Mrs. Chauncey S. Mummert, near York, formerly of here, has spent part of the past two weeks at the local home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Stambaugh. Mrs. Stambaugh, 76, is improving after a slight stroke but is still confined to her room.

David E. Bosserman, Hanover, formerly a R. 1, farmer, visited friends here during the past week.

Painting and carpentry has been in progress early this week to renovate the front entrance of the local post office building where brick masons repaired the steps a few weeks ago.

Robert Chronister is reported satisfactorily after his recent discharge from the Hanover Hospital where he underwent an operation.

Mrs. Grace Roland, Hanover, visited in town during the past weekend.

Richard Owing Riggs Jr., nine, has returned to school after being confined to his home a few days due to a fractured right arm which remains in a cast. He sustained the fracture when he fell while playing on the local school grounds.

Mr. and Mrs. William Frey and daughter, Barbara, have returned to their home south of town after a visit to Malvern where they were entertained by his sister, Mrs. Robert Dolan, her husband and young daughter, Debby.

Earl Mummert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nevin C. Mummert, R. 3, marked his birthday on Tuesday in Europe where he is stationed with the army.

Harry L. Gross, husband of Mrs. Queenie Feiser Gross, who teaches the Primary Department of the borough school, will also have been assigned to teach in West Manchester Twp., York Co. At present he is completing his studies at Shippensburg State Teachers College where his wife was graduated last spring.

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Wisler and daughters, Susan and Gail, Berlin Heights, entertained at home Sunday at a turkey dinner.

Philip H. Frey, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Frey, south

"MY JUDGE"

There is a Judge who rules my life . . . I live by His command . . . and if I stray from righteousness . . . He takes me by the hand . . . He reigns above the universe . . . and tells me what to do . . . so I can gain His Kingdom . . . that is fashioned in the blue . . . my Judge is just and most sincere . . . His kindness knows no end . . . and He will never fail me when . . . I need a tender friend . . . His word is law beyond all else . . . all men to Him must bow . . . if I follow in His path . . . my life He will endow . . . I love my Judge because I know . . . Who guides me with a love of loves . . . with power to redeem.

of town, who was recently discharged after European army service, is residing in Derby, Conn., and working at the manufacturing plant of an uncle of that place.

The new annex of Trinity Lutheran Church, containing enlarged facilities for Sunday School classes and social events, and an equipped kitchen, has now been completed and official dedication ceremonies are scheduled for Sunday, May 3. Motions pictures, "Alaska Silver Millions" and "The Cow and I," were shown to the public Thursday evening as an entertainment feature of the Conewago Jointure Parent-Teachers association meeting at the local high school.

Gerald L. Slothower, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Slothower, Dillsburg R. 2, is scheduled for induction shortly into the armed forces. The young man is a graduate of East Berlin High School.

AUGUSTA, Ga. (P)—President Eisenhower has ordered the presidential yacht Williamsburg out of service and into the "mothball fleet" because "the White House believes it is a symbol of needless luxury."

Eisenhower's press secretary, James C. Hagerty, used those words in announcing the decision today at the President's vacation headquarters.

Between now and June 30—when the Williamsburg will be stored away by the Navy—the yacht will be used twice weekly for Potomac River and Chesapeake Bay cruises for wounded war veterans, Hagerty said.

Frequently Used By Truman. He added that the yacht, which was used frequently by former President Truman, will be taken out of presidential service May 31. The secretary estimated annual cost of operating the yacht at $600,000. A saving of that much won't be realized, however, because that figure includes the salaries of its crew of 123 officers and men who simply will be transferred to other duty.

Actual cost of operating the ship itself is estimated at about $75,000 a year.

As Hagerty announced the decision to lay up the Williamsburg, Eisenhower was reported feeling much better after a bout with food poisoning.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

TEN YEARS AGO
Frey-Bucher: Miss Irene Bucher, daughter of Mrs. Annie L. Bucher, of Seven Stars, and J. Kieffer Frey, son of Mrs. Annie Frey, of Smithsburg, Maryland, were married Saturday, April 10, in Christ Evangelical Reformed church, Cavetown, Maryland.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Edward R. Hamme. They were attended by Miss June Frey and Mrs. Edward Bachtell. Mrs. Frey is employed by the Pennsylvania State Motor Police, Harrisburg. Mr. Frey is assistant funeral director of Grove funeral home, Smithsburg.

To Present Pageant: A pageant entitled "The Challenge of the Cross," under the direction of Miss Ruth Scott, will be presented in St. James chapel Wednesday evening by a group of young women. Those who will participate are: Betty Hand, Marion Sheely, Catherine Everly, Helen Spangler, Jean Spangler, Betty Rebert and Janice Sachs. Assisting will be a vocal quartet comprising Mrs. Swartz Hoke, Mrs. Earl Bowman, Mrs. Howard Sheffer and Mrs. Luther Sachs, with Mrs. R. R. Gresh at the piano.

Thomas Thanks Corps: "I want to express my gratitude and thanks to Captain John R. Coshey, his staff and men of the 55th College Training Detachment of the Army Air Corps, for their splendid formal retreat exercises in center square Friday evening as part of our Second War Loan campaign," Edmund W. Thomas, chairman of the county committee, said Saturday morning. "The excellent program was pleasing to watch and the officers and men deserve our sincerest thanks for their fine cooperation."

"I also want to thank borough police, state police and others who cooperated in the effort. It was a fine thing from start to finish," added Mr. Thomas.

Mrs. A. R. Wentz Is New Y Head: Mrs. A. R. Wentz was elected president of the board of directors of the YWCA at a meeting Monday afternoon at which the receipt of a $500 gift to the Y was announced.

The donor of the gift, which is in the form of a Series G. U. S. War bond, is Mrs. Cora Berkey, West Broadway, a friend of Mrs. Annie Danner Reinwald.

The staff of new officers headed by Mrs. Wentz, includes: Mrs. Howard S. Fox, vice president; Mrs. Carl C. Rasmussen, secretary, and Mrs. Wilbur Plank, treasurer. The retiring president, Mrs. Robert Fortenbaugh, installed these new members of the board for a term of two years: Mrs. Donald P. McPherson Jr., Mrs. Howard S. Fox, Mrs. Ralph R. Gresh, Miss Margaret Myers, all of Gettysburg; and Mrs. Charles Smith and Mrs. Marshall Longenecker, of the Arendtsville district.

The board voted their thanks to the girl Reserve Advisers for their "splendid work" during the club year. The group of advisers includes: Mrs. Glenn L. Bream; the Misses Phyllis and Vivian Wickey, Mrs. Fred P. Haehnel, Miss Dorothy Keeney, Miss Ruth Slifer and Miss Griselda Osvatic.

After the business meeting Mrs. Fortenbaugh entertained at a tea in the Y dining room.

Opens Dental Parlors: Dr. J. J. Munley, formerly of Harrisburg, has opened a dental parlor in the offices of the late Dr. E. C. Musseman, 26 Chambersburg Street.

Clapsaddle-Campbell: Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Fern Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Campbell, Whittier, California, to Earl Junior Clapsaddle, Yoeman second class, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emory J. Clapsaddle, Gettysburg, R. 2.

The ceremony took place in San Francisco on April 11, in the presence of the bride's mother and a number of friends.

Elks Install New Officers: Herbert L. Oyler was installed as exalted ruler of the Gettysburg lodge of Elks at a largely attended meeting Monday evening. He succeeds H. Earl Pitzer.

Past Exalted Ruler Richard Eisenhart was in charge of the installation.

HOSPITAL ROOM
I long have visited the rooms
Where friends were ill—
Sweet with the fragrance of the blooms
On shelf and sill.

And I have said the cheering word
And wished them well,
And watched them smiling as they heard
The tales I'd tell.

And then it came my turn to be
The patient there,
And earn how rich such rooms can be
With tender care.

There toils devotion at its best
To master pain
And soothe the throbbing pulse to rest
And health again.

CAMERA FUN
Now that another springtime is ours, and the summer vacations are near at hand, why not get newly acquainted with that camera of yours, and plan camera fun? And if you have no camera, invest in one — for it is an investment. Once initiated, you will never give up the hobby.

Every year to my summer island retreat go my cameras, my little portable typewriter, and a bundle of books. Cameras have been so improved that a very small expenditure will buy a good one, and with color films the joy in picture taking has grown by leaps and bounds. On your vacation you will get a pictorial record of all your days, and you will be able to enjoy these pictures over and over again.

A camera does almost anything you want it to do if you are patient, learn what it will do, keep trying to take better pictures. It's thrilling fun, too. You can become expert indoors and outdoors. It just takes study and concentration on what you wish to achieve. Camera clubs are on the increase all the time, and you will come in contact with many from whom you will learn new tricks in picture taking.

There are many excellent camera publications now on the market from which you are sure to learn new things. Nature invites us to so much. You can select your own compositions and get her colors on films that will delight you and your friends as well. Photography has been fast becoming one of the important arts. I note that our newspapers are giving it its deserved attention in their columns.

In the April National Geographic Magazine are colored pictures of rare birds that challenge the imagination! I have an entire shelf in my library devoted just to books on birds, beautifully illustrated with camera takings. Though I have been taking pictures for years, I keep learning new things and experiencing new thrills! Just try camera fun!

STATE PREPARES FIGHT AGAINST POLIO EPIDEMIC

HARRISBURG (P)—The State Department of Health today prepared to fight its annual battle with polio as plans for allocating gamma globulin—effective in fighting paralysis—got underway.

Dr. Russell E. Teague, Health secretary, said the Commonwealth has been allocated 170,000 cubic centimeters of globulin by the Department of Defense Mobilization for use against polio. The substance is also an effective preventive against measles and yellow jaundice.

The globulin was allocated on the ratio of 60 cc for each of the average number of polio cases in Pennsylvania. In the last five years, Teague said. He added that special authorizations will be made for use against jaundice and measles. Gamma globulin is a fraction of the protein part of blood plasma that contains anti-bodies, Teague said.

The anti-polio allocation will be distributed 57 per cent for immunization of case household contacts and 33 per cent for mass inoculations in epidemic areas for persons 30 years of age or under. The only exception is expectant mothers, who may be inoculated regardless of age.

Ten per cent will be saved for special needs.

"We expect to have enough to inoculate all household contacts and still have some left over for epidemics," Teague said. "We expect it to be highly effective in the prevention of paralysis."

The globulin will be distributed to physicians through local health departments at Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, county health departments and county medical directors.

The manner in which physicians will get the globulin has not yet been determined. Teague said he didn't know what the state's total allocation will be.

4,000 MARINES UNDER FIRE OF ATOMIC BLAST

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (P)—An atomic blast, the first to involve Marines maneuvering in helicopters, was set off on the Nevada desert at 4:35 a. m. (PST) today.

The Atomic Energy Commission said in advance today's boom would be a big one—and apparently it was. The orange flash, as seen here 75 miles from the proving ground, was the brightest of the spring series.

It was brilliantly visible in Los Angeles, too, 250 miles away. Twenty-two hundred Marines from Camp Pendleton, Calif., and Camp Lejeune, N. C., were in six-foot trenches 4,000 yards from ground zero for the predawn shot, sixth of the spring test series.

In advance trenches, an undisclosed distance closer, crouched a group of armed forces volunteers. Plans for a mock attack after the blast called for the ground troops to climb from their trenches at the Yucca Flat test site and advance as far as radioactivity permits.

Two hundred combat-equipped Marines in 40 Sikorsky transport helicopters were to leapfrog over them toward mythical enemy positions. Less than a minute after the flash a fast-rising grey white cloud became visible from this resort town. In two of the earlier shots this year no cloud was seen from here.

However, observers felt no shock wave here and heard no sound. This has been the case in several of the shots this spring, even when flashes have been bright.

Expect Draft Law To Be Retained
WASHINGTON (P)—Even if fighting ends in Korea, the Eisenhower administration says it will ask Congress to keep the draft law in force.

The law is due to expire in 1955, but Dr. John A. Hannah, assistant Secretary of Defense for manpower, said defense chiefs will ask that it be extended.

In a talk to the American Society of Newspaper Editors yesterday he said Congress also would be asked to extend the draft of medical officers beyond the June 30, 1954, expiration date.

He said the Defense Department was studying better manpower use, spurred by the prospect that in 30 months the pool of men who can meet current standards for military service will be exhausted and the supply of youths 18½ years old inadequate.

TIMELY TASKS IN BUSY APRIL
In approximate calendar order, farmer, orchardists, vegetable gardeners, and flower growers find the following suggested tasks awaiting them during the crowded days of April:

Plant at least a few gladiolus corms for extra early flowers. Day-old chicks started in early April make October layers.

Second plantings of peas, beets, leaf lettuce, radishes, carrots, and potatoes should be made at once.

Start cucumbers in quart-size fruit baskets in a coldframe, several seeds to a basket, with plants reduced to three later. Move these to their growing site after frost dangers are past in May.

Many annual flowers may be started now by sowing seeds where the plants are to grow.

Erect temporary fences to divide pastures into three or four equal plots for rotation grazing.

Have nests ready for martins when they arrive from their winter vacation within the next two weeks.

This is the final date for sowing salsify seed — 3 inches apart in rows where the soil is mellow and deep.

Sow celery seed under glass at once for the late fall crop. Move seedlings to individual containers in a coldframe.

There are several useful herbs that should be included in the 1953 vegetable garden.

Set out evergreens before the middle of April.

Sow seed of China asters under glass and move plants to their growing place later.

Mow lawn grass before it grows tall and rank.

Write the editor, enclosing a stamped, addressed envelope, for simple details on how to exterminate moles.

Fit paper (tarred roofing paper) disks around cabbage plants or use the calomel treatment to control the root maggot.

Sow rape for emergency pasturage for hogs, sheep, and turkeys. Spray potatoes with Bordeaux mixture as soon as leaves open.

Mulch strawberries liberally, working the mulch up under the runners, to conserve moisture and protect fruits from soil.

Purchase seed of rust-resistant strains of snapdragon and sow at once where the plants are to grow.

Plant lice should be killed off as soon as the first arrivals are seen on any kinds of food and ornamental plants. Use fresh nicotine dust or a Black Leaf 40 spray in soapy water.

Start a few hills of extra early sweet corn and protect plants later, if necessary, from threatening frosts.

A similar gamble with extra early snap beans is worth the taking.

Plan to utilize immature weeds on the compost heap this spring and summer — exterminate weeds and gain more organic matter.

Plant bulbs of the beautiful montbretia and Cape hyacinth before the last of April.

Buy and set out cabbage and collard plants if these two fine vegetables have been neglected to date.

Dust roses with Massey dust to prevent black spot and mildew and to control chewing insect pests.

And do not hesitate to write the editor to ask all the questions necessary to clear up doubts about April's tasks in lawn, garden and farm activities.

START LATE CELERY AT ONCE
The final date for sowing seed to grow plants for the late or winter crop of celery is here. This advice sounds strange with spring scarcely started officially, but such is the fact and gardeners are warned accordingly. The explanation lies in the fact that celery requires 140 to 180 days to mature from the date of sowing seed. A little arithmetic plus a calendar proves the urgency of this final warning.

If coldframe space is available and gardeners intend to grow celery only for home use, seed should be sown in a window box and the tiny plants pricked out as soon as they open two good leaves and set into individual pots or bands. Then place them in a warm coldframe where they may thrive without crowding until weather permits moving them to their growing site. One of the chief reasons for this method of handling plants is to reduce the dangers of damping-off, a disease that is aggravated where seedlings remain in the seed bed and lack room.

As an additional safeguard against damping-off, it is advisable to treat seed with Semesan before sowing, following directions on the container of this chemical.

To estimate, how many plants will be needed, compute them at the rate of two to each foot of row — a 6-inch spacing. Thus, for a 100-foot row, approximately 200 plants will be needed.

Because the excellent winter variety, Giant Pascal, requires liberal ridging, it is wise to make a single row across the side of the garden where space will increase in late summer and early fall as other earlier-maturing vegetables are harvested off.

This variety is mentioned particularly because it is one of the best winter keepers. It grows vigorously, the stalks are tender, and dieticians say Giant Pascal celery is richer in vitamins and minerals than the whiter sorts.

There can be no compromise with hard, shallow or poor soils for celery. A deeply mellow, well drained, fertile loam is demanded, with an abundance of organic matter to hold moisture through the long growing season. Such depth, mellowness, and fertility cannot be obtained from fertilizer bags. They must be provided in soils selected and prepared.

Well rotted manure finely pulverized is beneficial. Wood ashes that have been protected from rain will improve most soils for this crop. And a week or two before plants are set out, preferably before a rain, 6-8-8 or 5-10-5 fertilizer should be broadcast at the rate of 2 to 3 pounds to 100 square feet and worked uniformly into the top soil.

Celery is stimulated by one to three side dressings with nitrate

SNOWSTORM STRIKES STATE

PITTSBURGH (P)—A snowstorm blew into western Pennsylvania and most of western and southern New York.

Warnings were issued for snow accumulations of three to six inches throughout most of the area and up to eight inches in the Pennsylvania mountains. Strong winds and cold temperatures were indicated for tonight and Sunday.

The mercury fell to 32 at 6:30 a. m. in Pittsburgh. Light snow melted as it hit the ground in the city but there was a white blanket over suburban areas. A low of 32 was forecast for the city tonight with a high of 40 tomorrow.

State police at Greensburg reported a light snow and rain on the turnpike from Gateway to Bedford but said the snow is not sticking and driving conditions are not bad.

At Harrisburg the Weather Bureau reported four inches of snow on the ground at Brookville, Jefferson County and at Tamarack Tower, near Coudersport. It was snowing at Philipsburg and Blairsville and lightly at Williamsport.

The Bureau said there had been very little snow reported in central Pennsylvania so far.

of soda during the growing season, especially any time when plant growth is slow. One pound to 50 or 60 feet of row is sufficient, worked carefully into the soil with a fork.

No other vegetable responds so profitably to irrigation in dry weather as does celery. Here irrigation does not refer to "sprinkling." But rather, water should be allowed to run along the rows in shallow ditches to soak the soil to a depth of 3 to 4 inches or more whenever the soil is dry.

Move celery to clean soils each year to avoid soil-borne dangers and burn all refuse from the old crop in early spring. Spray plants every ten days to two weeks with Bordeaux mixture, beginning just before plants are set out.

Write the editor for all additional information needed in planning and growing this important food crop.

Warriors Bow To Hanover 3-0 In League Game; Meet Delone Here On Tuesday

Hanover High School's baseball team, defending South Penn League champions, made the most of three hits as it defeated Coach Howard Shoemaker's Gettysburg High nine Friday afternoon at Hanover 3-0. The defeat was the second in two starts for Gettysburg.

The Warriors pounded the offering of Karl Sandruck for seven hits but could not come through in the pinches. It was a heart-breaking defeat for "Skip" Fisel, ace Warrior right-hander, who whiffed 14 batters during the seven-inning affair.

The Nighthawks tabbed a run in the first frame, Rudisill opened with a walk. Schue popped to Dentler and Hoover gained base on an out-field error on Sandruck's fly.

Two more Hanover runs came in the second frame. With one out, L. Rohrbaugh singled, D. Hoff and Nollack drew bases on balls. Rudisill grounded to Bender who threw out Rohrbaugh at the plate. Schue followed with a double to right to score Hoff and Nollack.

Gettysburg missed many scoring opportunities. Walks to Hixon and Dentler in the second inning proved useless and in the third singles by Roth and Hartzell were wasted. Again in the fifth Roth and Rohrbaugh rapped safeties to no avail. In the final frame Fisel doubled but was nipped trying to stretch it into a triple on a relay from Hoover to G. Rohrbaugh to Frock. The Warriors had one or more base runners each frame with the exception of the sixth.

Next Tuesday at 3:30 p.m. the locals will play their first home game of the season when they meet Delone Catholic, 6-2 winners of Biglerville Friday.

"Bud" Ecker's undefeated Boiling Springs High School baseball team pounded out a 12-5 victory at Newville Friday afternoon to move into a tie with Biglerville for the top position in the Adams County Scholastic League.

The victory was the 12th straight this year for the Bubblers and extended their two-year streak to 21 in a row.

Hospital Patient Falls To Her Death
PHILADELPHIA, (AP)—Mrs. Yvonne Dehon, 45, of Plymouth Rd., Norristown, a private psychiatric patient at Jefferson Hospital, fell to her death from the 11th floor of the hospital last night.

A hospital spokesman said Mrs. Dehon walked to a utility room, opened the window and dropped to the street after apparently clinging to the ledge for a few seconds. She struck the pavement just east of the Sansom St. entrance to the hospital.

Mrs. Dehon's private nurse, Miss Carrie Cannon, had left her patient to go to dinner a short time before. Miss Cannon said she and her patient had attended a movie theater earlier in the day and that Mrs. Dehon appeared to enjoy herself.

Dr. Charles Feinberg of the hospital staff pronounced her dead and the body was removed to the city morgue.

THE LAUGHING HORSE
LOUISVILLE (AP)—Laffango got his name because of his disposition. "After we bought him as a yearling," says Abe Giddins, one of the stable owners, "the colt acted like he was laughing. When he was taken on the track he always wanted to go. That's how we got the name."

Spring Storms Scatter Ice, Dust And Fire Through West
ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP)—A spring storm sweeping out of Canada today scattered towering dust clouds, ice and fire through six Western states.

Forest fires in New Mexico and Arizona blazed under lashing winds. Gritty clouds of reddish dust as high as 20,000 feet blanketed out Western skies from Southern Colorado and Eastern Arizona into Oklahoma and Texas.

Seven Inches Of Snow
Motorists skidded on icy Colorado roads and 14 cars and trucks piled up in a blinding New Mexico sand storm. One person was killed and at least 10 injured in scattered accidents.

Oklahoma farmers watched their crops as the mercury skidded to below freezing.

Colorado and Wyoming ranchers were told to get livestock under cover as seven inches of snow from the north piled up at Big Piney, Wyo.

Huge Forest Fire
Freezing rains and fog hit Oklahoma and Texas. More than 1,000 men were on the firelines in Southern New Mexico attempting to control flames which swept from a sawmill spark through 13,440 acres of virgin pine in the Lincoln National Forest. Loss is estimated at $804,000.

Forest rangers said hundreds of small spot fires were rushing ahead of the lines on winds up to 60 miles an hour last night. The Weather Bureau forecast continued winds today up to 35 miles an hour.

DECIDE TODAY ABOUT SITE FOR OLYMPICS
MEXICO CITY (AP)—The International Olympic committee is expected to decide today whether Melbourne will be the host city for the 1956 Olympic games.

The Australian city apparently had everything in its favor except one touchy problem—a strict quarantine which could ban importation of horses needed for equestrian events.

Various compromises have been suggested to get around the Australian law which prohibits importation of horses unless they have been in England or Ireland for at least six months.

Among the proposals was a suggestion that equestrian events—there are only three—be eliminated. Brundage rejected this on grounds they were traditional Olympic sports. Another was that the events be held in some other country. Several delegates were flatly against such a plan.

The Australians finally proposed that horses of participating countries be concentrated in England or the United States and inspected there by Australian veterinarians before being shipped to Melbourne. Japan, among others, pointed out this would be a handicap to far eastern countries.

GERRY DREYER STOPS BURTON
NEW YORK (AP)—Gerry Dreyer, the British Empire welter champ is gunning for a bout with any top welter—champion Kid Gavilan included—after stopping the veteran Phil Burton on a TKO in 2:52 of the sixth round at St. Nicholas Arena last night.

Burton, rugged St. Louis scrapper, never failed to go the route in 78 previous fights with the likes of Gavilan, Billy Graham, Pierre Langlois and Rocky Castellani. But he just barely beat the count after the first knockdown in the sixth last night. And when he went down again from a right hand punch, referee George Walsh quickly called a halt.

Dreyer, 23 year old invader from Pretoria, South Africa, weighed 149 to 143 for Burton in the nationally televised bout.

The fight drew only 1,428 paying $3.04. Burton was a sub for Tex Gonzales who was to have been inducted into the Army this morning.

Dreyer has won 33 of 34 since he turned pro after winning the 1948 Olympic lightweight crown. This was his TV debut and his 14th straight North American victory.

2 Truck Drivers Are Killed In Crash
CHESTER, Pa. (AP)—Two truck drivers were killed and three other persons injured early today in the collision of three vehicles on the Wilmington, Del.-West Chester Pike near Elam, about 10 miles south of here.

State Police identified the dead as Marion F. Hair, Boothwyn, Delaware County, and Robert Anderson, 35, Smyrna, Del.

Hair was driving a truck loaded with stone, while Anderson was at the wheel of a huge tractor-trailer loaded with general merchandise.

The trucks and an automobile collided, and both trucks burned. Betty Talley, 19, riding in Hair's truck, suffered burns.

Names of two persons in the automobile—and the extent of their injuries—was not known.

New Chain Letter Makes Appearance
CHICAGO (AP)—The chain-letter fad has bobbed up in a new form. A high school girl in a Chicago suburb received one of the letters recently. She was instructed to:

Send a picture post card to the youngster whose name was listed first in the letter.

Then make four copies of the letter and send them to young friends in the U.S. or abroad.

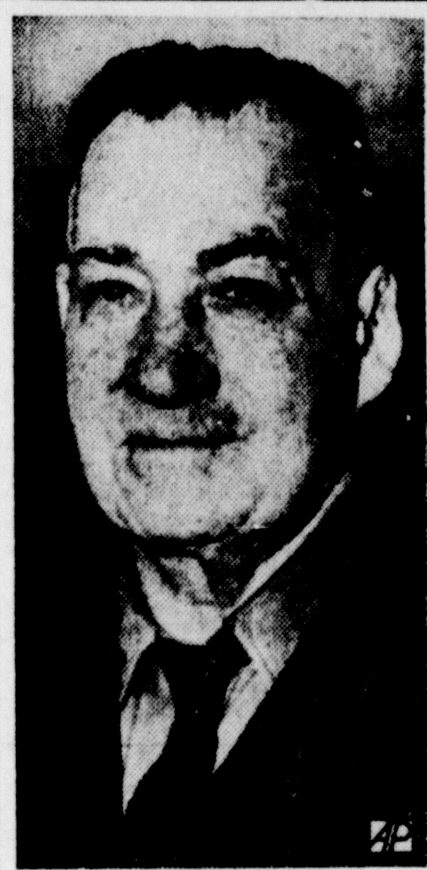

In so doing, omit the name of the youngster whose name was listed first, copy the other three listed names and addresses and add her own name and address at the bottom.

The letter set forth: "With four weeks you may be sent 256 post cards from all over the world. This should improve your knowledge of geography."

Tom Sharkey, above, 79, last of the prize ring greats of the 1890s, died in a San Francisco hospital, April 17, after being in ill health for sometime. Sharkey won fame fighting Jim Corbett, Bob Fitzsimmons, Jim Jeffries and others. This picture was taken in September, 1952.

Ted Williams In Japan On Leave

SEOUL (AP)—A Marine officer at a South Korea air base said today Capt. Ted Williams, the Boston Red Sox slugger, is in Japan on rest leave and probably will not return to Korea before Monday.

A First Marine Air Wing spokesman, however, quoted two Marine medical officers as saying Williams always was "physically fit."

Williams returned to flight status April 1 after being hospitalized 22 days for a "respiratory tract infection" and was completely recovered when he returned, the two medical officers said.

They added that Williams expressed "complete satisfaction" with his health on his return.

The Marine Wing spokesman said Williams flew five missions before he was hospitalized. He flew three familiarization hops after his return to duty, then added four more missions for a total of 12 before being granted rest leave April 14.

DEATH TOLL IN BLAZE NOW 28
CHICAGO (AP)—Firemen found another body today in the ruins of a fire-swept four-story factory building, increasing to 28 the known dead in one of Chicago's major fires in recent years.

Firemen continued the round-the-clock search for additional bodies. Fire officials said the final death toll might reach 33. Still unaccounted for are five persons who were in the Haber Corporation plant when it was rocked by an explosion and swept by fire Thursday morning.

Firemen recovered 11 bodies in the ruins yesterday. Digging operations were suspended temporarily last night when it appeared that walls still standing might collapse.

A few minutes after search was resumed this morning, firemen found the body of the 28th victim, a man. The dead included 17 men and 11 women. Four have not been identified.

DELONE DOWNS CANNERS 6-2 IN 1ST GAME
Delone Catholic High opened its baseball season successfully Friday afternoon by defeating Biglerville 6-2 on the Brushtown diamond.

The Cannners were held to but one hit by Joe Bevenour, that a single by Orner. Bevenour whiffed seven and also walked seven. The Squires collected five hits off Day, one of which was a double by Bair in the sixth which sent two runs across the plate. Day struckout seven and passed but one.

Five Biglerville misues helped the Delone cause, only three of the winner's runs being earned.

Delone will come here next Tuesday afternoon to meet the Gettysburg High Warriors.

Relay League To Mark Anniversary
WEST HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—The American Radio Relay League, organization of amateurs who own radio stations, will be 30 years old next year. The famed inventor, the late Hiram Percy Maximus was founder and first president. Today the organization has the biggest share of the 100,000 amateurs as its members.

The league regards itself as spokesman for the amateurs in this country, identifies itself as "strictly of, by and for amateurs," is noncommercial and has no stockholders. Members of the league are owners of the organization and its monthly magazine.

POLICEWOMEN HAVE CRY
MANILA (AP)—The tough jujitsu trained women on the Manila police force wept. The cause of their tears was Mayor Arsenio Lacson's recent decision not to reinstate them in the force. Appropriations for the female cop's unit was stricken from the budget and the Mayor stood pat on his decision that they are "not essential" — despite tearful pleas.

CHICAGO (AP)—Firemen found another body today in the ruins of a fire-swept four-story factory building, increasing to 28 the known dead in one of Chicago's major fires in recent years.

Firemen continued the round-the-clock search for additional bodies. Fire officials said the final death toll might reach 33. Still unaccounted for are five persons who were in the Haber Corporation plant when it was rocked by an explosion and swept by fire Thursday morning.

Firemen recovered 11 bodies in the ruins yesterday. Digging operations were suspended temporarily last night when it appeared that walls still standing might collapse.

A few minutes after search was resumed this morning, firemen found the body of the 28th victim, a man. The dead included 17 men and 11 women. Four have not been identified.

News Executive Says Russia Seeks To Distort Reports On Americans' Visit There

YOUNGSTOWN, O., (AP)—James L. Wick, leader of seven newspaper and radio executives who recently visited Russia, said Friday the Soviets have started a campaign to distort completely statements made by the group.

"Never in journalistic history have so many lies been told in so few words except by other Soviet propagandists equally adept," he said in a statement.

Wick is board chairman of the Mahoning Valley Newspapers, Inc., which owns the Niles Daily Times.

Not Interested In Truth

"This campaign of distortion of our statements is merely another evidence that the Soviet interest is exclusively in propaganda and not in the truth," he said.

Wick issued his statement after the Moscow Trade Union newspaper Trud said the American visitors became convinced of a Soviet will to "achieve peaceful agreement and peaceful solution of all conflicts."

The story quoted the journalists as having glowingly favorable impressions of Moscow and the Soviet Union and as having their eyes opened to the Western "campaign of lies against the Soviet Union."

Dispatch Quoted Wick

In his statement, Wick declared, "We said the people of the Soviet Union, like the people of all other countries, clearly want peace, but we also emphatically added that the real question is 'What do the men in the Kremlin want?'"

"I have said on many occasions that they want the fruits of conquests without war involving the Soviet Union itself, but certainly at considerable risk of such war."

The Moscow paper credited the East German ADN agency for a story of a news conference given in West Berlin by the editors following their arrival from Moscow.

It said Wick "underscores that the support of the Soviet government of the proposal of Chou En-lai and Kim Il Sung on the ending of the war in Korea was a demonstration of the will of the Soviet Union to achieve peaceful agreement and peaceful solution to all conflicts."

Wick, in a speech last night at the annual banquet of the Niles Chamber of Commerce, said the Russians are making Moscow a show place for propaganda purposes at the expense of the rest of that country and its satellites.

Wick said the Russian rulers are bleeding their own people and its satellite nations to give Moscow the impressive buildings, wide streets and plush subway system the visitors were shown.

By doing this, he said, the Russians hope to fool the rest of the world into believing that all of Russia is as advanced as Moscow.

Going To Blame

Wick said he believes Russia is more concerned, however, with influencing its own people than in getting its propaganda across in other lands. The contents of Russian newspapers show this, he said.

Wick quoted diplomatic sources as saying that the late Soviet ruler, Joseph Stalin, planned to strip satellite nations of their resources to build up Russia.

Wick said Stalin also planned to blame the economic collapses this would cause in the satellites upon the Jews.

JUSTICE DEPT. FIRES 145 MEN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Atty. Gen. Brownell said Friday 145 lawyers have recently left the Justice Department, mostly by request.

He described a number of the group as incompetents, undesirable or both. Some, he asserted, had "shady reputations."

Speaking before the American Society of Newspaper Editors, the new attorney general said he was nearing completion of his first objective, described as the "recruitment of a competent and loyal staff of high professional standards."

Brownell said that when he was sworn in late January, he took over a department which had "lost public confidence," and found the morale of competent career attorneys in the department "at a low ebb."

The Justice Department chief said he had made a "painstaking case-by-case" check of the 1,600 lawyers on the payroll and had asked for resignations only after a careful investigation. Although some have resisted ouster, he said, many others "have seen fit to resign rather than face charges and have their record blemished."

JAPANESE VOTING

TOKYO (AP)—Japan holds its second national election in seven months tomorrow. Some 35 million voters are expected to cast ballots which will decide the political future of Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida and show whether Japan's small but vocal Communist party can stage a comeback.

FERGUSON ASKS 6 BILLION CUT IN ARMS COSTS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich.) called today for a six billion dollar cut in arms and atomic spending, amid signs the Eisenhower administration may support a slower buildup of Western defense.

The proposal by Ferguson, chairman of the Senate armed service appropriations subcommittee, came in the face of an assertion by Sen. Symington (D-Mo.) that U. S. military strength is lagging further behind Russia's every day.

Attention centered on a speech Secretary of State Dulles will make tonight at 10 p.m., EST, before the American Society of Newspaper Editors. The speech will be broadcast and telecast nationally by the American Broadcasting Company, and rebroadcast at 11 p.m., EST, by the National Broadcasting Company.

Sees Shift To Long Pull

Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.), acting chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee before which Dulles appeared yesterday, quoted him as saying the speech will discuss the rate of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization buildup.

Sen. Gillette (D-Iowa), who also heard Dulles' testimony, said he felt the secretary was considering a possible shift to "the long pull rather than a hurried, extraordinary buildup."

After his closed-door meeting with the committee, Dulles told newsmen in effect that President Eisenhower's peace proposals before the editors' society Thursday had put Russia on the spot.

In Kremlin's Hands

If there is no prompt response from Russia, Dulles said, "in a great many respects it will be quite apparent it is necessary to move ahead on all fronts, East and West, to develop a strong position."

The Eisenhower plan—end the cold war, disarm the world and invest the savings in combating want—was handed directly to the Kremlin. The State Department said a text of the speech was submitted to the Soviet Foreign Office in Moscow Thursday night.

American envoys in some 70 foreign capitals acted similarly. Symington told the editors' society yesterday that, even if the defense budget is not reduced, the U. S. will continue to grow "weaker every day in relative military strength against Russia."

Taft Plan Not Enough

But Ferguson, in an interview, said he is convinced the 4½ billion dollar military program proposed by former President Truman can be heavily slashed without reducing combat strength.

The Michigan senator said he believes secrecy surrounding the atomic program—for which Truman asked $2,700,000,000 in the fiscal year starting July 1—has led to "great extravagance."

Ferguson said a four billion dollar military cut, as proposed by Senate Republican Leader Taft of Ohio, will not be enough.

Leather Peddlers Called "No Squeaks"

HONG KONG (AP)—There are now four leather peddlers operating along the Hong Kong waterfront who have adopted the nickname of "no squeak." The peddlers long ago discovered that foreigners often judge leather by its squeak or lack of squeak—preferring the silent variety. The peddlers, who set up displays on Navy ships, proclaim the quality of their goods by their nicknames. American sailors report there

ASTIN STAYS AT NATIONAL BUREAU OF STANDARDS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dr. Allen V. Astin remains temporarily director of the National Bureau of Standards, with assurances of continued government employment and regard for his professional ability and integrity.

Astin's resignation, forced by Secretary of Commerce Weeks in a row over the bureau's adverse report on a powder to rejuvenate batteries, was to have become effective today.

But last night Weeks announced that:

Storm Of Protest

1. Astin will remain as director for several months while a special scientific committee evaluates "the present functions and operations of the Bureau of Standards in relation to present national needs."

2. "No question is involved of Dr. Astin's permanent retention" as bureau director, but he will be offered a post in his present grade "where his professional skill and abilities may be utilized."

Until Weeks acted on the advice, he said, of the bureau's Visiting Committee of Scientists—a storm of protest over Astin's dismissal had been building up in scientific circles and in Congress.

There were reports from within the bureau that several hundred employees were ready to resign. The bureau, the government's main testing agency, handles many top secret defense projects.

Singapore Bans Labor Immigrants

SINGAPORE (AP)—New immigration regulations will bar entry into Singapore to all persons wanting to enter the colony for the purpose of seeking employment. Controller of Immigration J. L. J. Haxworth said. "The colony can no longer afford the flow of fresh immigrants." He explained there were no restrictions in the past because vast quantities of labor were required to develop the country. The ever increasing local-born population now can be depended upon the supply all labor requirements.

Singapore now has a population of 1,000,000. Experts estimate this will be doubled by 1970.

Says Army Lacked Early Priorities

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army's chief of ordnance told senators Friday the Korean War had been under way 18 months before the Army was given effective priorities for producing ammunition.

This testimony came from Maj. Gen. E. L. Ford to a Senate Armed Services Subcommittee during his explanation of why there was no real ammunition production until two years after the war began in June 1950.

Ford said the Ordnance Corps and private contractors early in 1951 thought they would be given "all the resources and priorities that go with such an emergency."

But, he added, the necessary resources and priorities were not provided by higher authority (the Office of Defense Mobilization) and the result was "we and our contractors greatly underestimated" the time required to get into production.

MISS WERTMAN

cousin of the bride; Mrs. Elton Acton, Philadelphia, sister of the groom, and Miss Joann Sier, a Gettysburg College student and ceremony sister of the bride, will be the attendants. They will wear aqua gowns similar to the maid of honor's and will carry jonquils and carnations.

David Locker, Philadelphia, is the best man, and the ushers will be Kenneth Diehl, Philadelphia; Dr. North Sterrett, Arendtsville, cousin of the groom; Richard Hannington, Philadelphia, and Richard Daugherty, Philadelphia, cousin of the groom.

Reception To Follow

The bride's mother will wear a navy street-length dress with navy accessories and an orchid corsage and the groom's mother will appear in a light blue street-length dress, navy accessories and an orchid corsage.

Following the ceremony, a reception will be held in the social room of the seminary. The couple will honeymoon for a week in the South after which they will be at home at 4136 N. Keystone Ave., Chicago. The bride's going-away ensemble includes a light blue suit with navy accessories and a white orchid corsage.

Both bride and groom were graduated from Gettysburg College last August. Prior to her marriage, Miss Wertman had been employed as a technician at the Franklin Laboratories in Philadelphia. She is a member of Alpha Xi Delta sorority.

Mr. Sterrett, who served in the United States Navy for three years, is a 2nd Lt. in the USAF. He is employed as a salesman for the Armstrong Cork Company at the Chicago office.

One For The Book

With so many revivals in the motor world this year it isn't surprising that we are having a return engagement of some of the car troubles that were supposed to have gone with the linen duster. One of these concerns motor vibration. In spite of so many improvements in design engines still have a vibration point which some drivers can clearly detect. In some cases motor skipping develops at specific speeds, such as 33 or 38. The answer in some cases is shorting of low tension wiring between the coil and the distributor where the coil is mounted on the engine. Touching the engine at times this wire becomes bare at one spot, and it is during the engine's vibration point that the actual shorting develops. It is so temporary, and so quickly checked when the driver slows down or speeds up, diagnosis is difficult.

Why Power Steering?

Most cars steer so well these days many skeptics wonder why there is so much interest in power steering. Obviously there is a big field here for better advertising of this new feature in car control. The real advantage isn't ease of parking but rather safer control when one of the rear wheels is bogged down in mud, sand or snow, or if a tire blows. Wherever power is needed to keep the car on a straight course power steering comes into the picture in a big way. That big way is greater safety. Let's stress it.

Motorism By Song

Any day now we may expect a new popular song about some phase of automobilism, probably something that sings of the current interest in sport cars. It might even be a hot-rod number. Automobile songs were popular in the days when the car was a novelty, but now and again a song pops in to feature some phase of motoring. Typical was "Thumble in a Rumble" with music by the hot-writer, J. Fred Coots. An intermezzo, "The Lady Chauffeur" was tied in with women's interest in motoring. Then there was "The Automobile Honeymoon" which was done in Lew Dockstader's minstrel at a time when the car could be trusted to take the newlyweds at least 45 minutes from Broadway.

These colorful facts I have discovered in Larry Freeman's book "The Merry Old Mobiles," published by his own Century House. He breaks down motor history into seven ages of automobilism and has packed the volume with many curious illustrations, including one in which an operator is driving up on the sidewalk for his first tankful of gasoline from a pump. "My Mobile Gas" was one of the earliest motor songs, ladies will be interested to know.

Mechanic Joe Speaking:

"This is the proper time to take a look at the carburetor of your car to see if there is an adjustable stroke for the arm of the accelerator pump. Not all carburetors have this feature but where it is found there should be a change to the shorter stroke for warm weather use. This lessens the amount of raw gasoline which is held in the pump's barrel for use when you step on the gas for quick pick-up. If there is too much fuel in the pump's barrel the engine may stumble through auto-indigestion."

One About-Face Enough

Turning around two and one-half times without striking another car or upsetting is a feat that doesn't warrant cheering. A competent driver never makes more than one complete turn in a skid, no matter how suddenly he has been caught with treacherous brakes on slippery paving. After one turn he is ready with the wheels cut for straightening out and his foot is off the brake pedal so that the car can roll instead of slide. On the second half of its complete revolution, especially on a down-grade, the car will slow down considerably, thus giving the operator a chance to recover his senses.

Incidentally, having good tread on the front tires will always help in using steering to correct the rear end's swing.

Rough On The Wires

One of the newer troubles in the line of ignition is the disintegration of high tension wires because they are covered up and are thus practically baked by engine heat. All this makes for a pretty motor and there is less trouble from moisture on the wiring, but it means that wiring will have to be replaced at surprisingly low mileage. I have seen recent cases where the insulation broke down after a year's use of the car.

Not every new driver has the benefit of power braking but he or she should be interested to know that the job of parking is eased during the rain because the tires swivel on wet paving more easily than on dry. Putting it another way, you can get into a tighter spot on a rainy day. Incidentally, when taking a parking space always steer into it slightly before moving up abreast of the car ahead of it. In this way you will bring the rear wheels a little closer to the curb. It will not only ease the job of placing the car in the space but will be notification to others behind that you are taking the space.

Caught In The Middle

Speaking of parking, keep away from poles. Or anything that will prevent the car from yielding more gracefully if something hits it. I've just looked over the results of a minor collision in which a truck backed into a new car on a parking lot. The damage was just doubled because the owner had parked beside a pole. Had the car been able to yield there would have been injury to one side only.

When you are complaining because the wiper blades do not sweep the windshield clean don't overlook the fact that the glass itself may not be smooth. Even though this is high grade safety glass it is likely to have what are known as "low spots" over which the wiper blades move without doing much of a job. Some of the new blades seem to be able to get into the depressions because of their more flexible nature. Curved glass also is a help here.

Keep These In Mind

That little rotor in the distributor is something you might consider when fussing around the car. Its tip will become pitted and should be smoothed off with fine sandpaper. Its center contact may need cleaning and the tension increased a little by bending it up. Don't save anti-freeze drained from the cooling system. You can keep it clean, and you can always bring it up to desired strength, but you can't remove the acid content.

What's Your Trouble?

Q. There is a wire to the carburetor of my car. Does this indicate that the choke is electric in its operation? J. L. M.

A. Not necessarily. Your car has an automatic transmission, and the wire may go to a solenoid which operates the dash pot of the carburetor. This dash pot is a control to prevent the engine from returning to idle too quickly, and thus stalling.

Q. What would cause the brakes to make a sharp knocking sound when I apply them? Wm. L. L.

A. One of the brake drums may be scored or perhaps it was too

Q. There's a definite shimmy of the front wheels in the higher speed range. Tires are balanced. Nothing is loose. S. McB.

A. Could be weak front coil springs.

GUARDS KILL 4 RED PRISONERS IN BLOODY RIOT

PUSAN, Korea (AP)—Allied guards armed with shotguns killed four Communist prisoners and wounded 45 in putting down a bloody riot by chanting, rock throwing captives on Yoncho Island Friday afternoon, the U. N. Prisoner of War Command announced.

No U. N. security personnel were seriously hurt.

Yoncho is near Kojé Island off the tip of South Korea.

The POW Command said the incident began when prisoners lined up in a stockade for a routine inspection refused to allow the compound commander to inspect the barracks.

Defiant prisoners barricaded themselves in their quarters.

Allied guards threw concussion grenades to break down the barricades and non-toxic irritants to force the prisoners out of doors. Stage Mob Assault

At an apparently pre-arranged signal, the command said, prisoners in seven neighboring compounds poured out of their barracks to stage a shouting, chanting, rock-throwing demonstration. The mutineers in the original stockade soon charged out of their quarters in a mob assault backed by a shower of stones.

The U. N. guards again tried to stop the rioters with non-toxic agents but failed. The guards then opened fire with shotguns "to break up the concerted attack and to prevent the prisoners from grabbing the weapons," the command announced. This stopped the rioters and order was restored.

Guards also used shotguns in four neighboring compounds when prisoners there kept hurling stones at the security forces, the command said.

The command said the rioters were "die-hard Communist prisoners of war."

Jobs in industry were found for Indians from every western state and Alaska by the U. S. Bureau of Indian Affairs in 1952.

WILSON LAUDS GERMANS FOR WORK, ATTITUDE

BERLIN (AP)—U. S. Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson today described the attitude and industry of the German people as the most impressive thing he has witnessed on his three day tour of Germany.

He had just completed an inspection of Allied defense installations behind the Rhine river. He told reporters at the airport he found the U. S. Army "very good" and troop morale high.

But when asked what had impressed him most in Germany he answered "the attitude and industry of the German people."

"They do not seem discouraged," he said. "They are working hard and appear willing to accept things as they are and hope they will get better."

In answer to a question, he said he had not "specifically" studied the possibility of putting West Germany's big potential to work on arms production, and had not talked with any German industrialists about it.

He repeated his conviction expressed on his arrival in Germany Wednesday that the buildup of western military strength should continue in spite of the recent Soviet "peace offensive."

Asked if he found in Germany any chances for military economies, he replied "in such a tremendous program one can always effect economies."
